Gould Academy's Huskies were given a 13-0 setback in their first encounter with Vermont schools. The Lyndon eleven scored 6 points in the first period and in the second period the elusive Prinn galloped 55 yards to score again. Wright rushed the extra point making it 7 points in the second period. The half ended 13-0 as the teams left the field.

In the second half Gould came to life and dominated the play. They threatened on numerous occasions and once scored, only to have the TD annulled by a holding penalty. Gould racked up 14 first downs to 9 for the Vermonters. The winners showed great defensive strength whenever their goal was threatened and the "Blue and Gold" could not push over a score.

Jerry Davis twice overtook opponents from behind as they raced for the goal line, thus saving Gould from a more disastrous defeat.

LOCAL C. O. C. OFFICERS ATTEND STATE MEETING

Representing the Bethel Chamber of Commerce at the season's first round table meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce at Augusta Sept. 23 were Henry Hastings and Kimball Ames. The laws regarding itinerant peddlers and solicitation of charitable funds and the conditions in these activities were discussed with the group by representatives from the U S Chamber of Commerce, the State Bureau of Social Welfare, the Portland Chamber of Commerce, the Maine Medical Society, the Portland Better Business Bureau, the Maine Municipal Association and the Attorney General's office.

Of interest to the citizens of Bethel, it was ascertained that the State Bureau of Social Welfare has refused to renew the soliciting license of the Children's Heart Work Society for cause. Therefore the recent collections made here have been illegally received. The Secretary of the Chamber expects soon to have a list of institutions licensed and not licensed, so that inquiries concerning the legitimacy of a solicitation can be answered.

A committee appointed to investigate these laws further will make a later report. An important meeting of the State Chamber will be held Oct. 23 in Portland. All local members are invited to hear many prominent speakers.

Mrs Irene Hutchinson was in Bethel Wednesday.
Twenty-three children, members of Mrs Verna Dyke's Sunday School class, enjoyed a party at the Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon.

To Mark Centennial

The first of the following stanzas was written by the late Dr William Rogers Chapman at the time of the state's centennial and was sung at that time, the music being written by Sousa. The remainder of the poem is from the pen of Mrs Chapman, and is a timely contribution to the centennial observance of the Congregational Church this week-end.

One hundred years ago today,
One hundred years ago,
A new star was placed for the State of Maine
In the flag of the "U. S. A."
And ever since she has proudly held
Her place in the World's history
'Til now she reaches Centennial fame
One hundred years today.

And now our town of Bethel
Sheltered behind the hills;
Has reached the mark, "one hundred years"
To fill us all with thrills!
For all she has accomplished
In ways both brave and true
Until she stands with others
As "one hundred" years we review!
With pride we speak of Bethel.

And all that she has done,
Of "True," "Gehring" and "Herrick"
And the places they have won,
In the "Hall of Fame" with "Bingham"
And "Hanscom" too, all so good!
For the honor of "old Gould" they stand
And with this "Church of History"
They mark this day as Grand.
Good Preachers too have helped here
To make this town so fine.
They have labored long and faithfully
To keep all things in line
With the measure of high standards
For God, and all things right.
Surely God has blessed them all—
And watched them day and night.
So the dear old town of Bethel,
The "Church," the "School," and
"All"
Are revered by all who come here
To rest in loved homes and halls.
As we celebrate its Centennial With greetings from young and old
We pray God's blessing may always O'er our dear "Bethel town" enfold.
E. L. Chapman

HARRY N. HEAD

Harry N Head passed away very suddenly Tuesday morning after a brief illness. Mr Head had been on a trip to New York and New Jersey visiting friends and had returned home only a week ago.

He was born in Shelburne, N. H., July 21, 1866, and spent his boyhood there.

In 1898 he married Mary Barker who died while a young woman. To them was born one son, Paul Barker Head, who survives. In later years Mr Head married Phoebe Thurston who also died several years ago.

The Head family lived several years in Needham, Mass., and in 1906 moved to West Bethel, where soon after Mr Head started the grocery business now known as the H N Head & Son general store.

Mr Head possessed an unusual intellectual ability. He was a great reader and at all times was well posted in world affairs.

He was a member of West Bethel Union Church and Pleasant Valley Grange and took a keen interest in community activities.

Ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need, and speak kind words in times of sorrow, Mr Head endeared himself to young and old alike. He leaves a host of friends who will miss his friendly greetings.

Besides his son he is survived by a sister, Mrs C H George of Bartlett, N. H., four grandchildren, John, Arthur, David and Mary Joyce Head, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from the West Bethel Church and interment will be at Shelburne, N. H.

TO HOLD SPECIAL CORPORATION MEETING

A special meeting of the Bethel Village Corporation will be held soon to see if the voters favor the employment of a night police officer. Persons having other matters which might be acted upon at such a meeting are asked to get in touch with the Assessors before the warrant for the meeting is made up.

GOULD CROSS COUNTRY SCHEDULE NOW COMPLETE

Gould Academy's Cross Country schedule has at last been completed. Coach Fossett's lineups have been training for some time and are anxious now to get into competition. Veterans are few and most of the squad consists of youngsters who have had little or no experience. The following meets have been secured.

Wednesday, Oct. 8, at Andover High School.
Wednesday, Oct. 15, Stephen High at Bethel.

Wednesday, Oct. 22 at Portland High School.
Wednesday, Oct. 22, Andover at Bethel.

Wednesday, Nov. 5, Stephen High at Rumford.

VA OFFICES CLOSED SEPT. 30

M L Stoddard, manager of the Veterans Administration in Maine has announced that with the closing of VA installations at Bath, Biddeford, Rumford, Machias, and Presque Isle on September 30, the VA schedule of itinerant contact service would be stepped up considerably. At every point where there was discontinuance of full-time service, itinerant service will be established.

After October 1, the VA office at 14 Lisbon Street, Lewiston, will maintain itinerant service to Fire Station Hall, 116 Main St. at Norway, 1st and 3rd Wednesday afternoons, Western Maine Sanatorium, Greenwood Mountain, 1st and 2d Wednesday, 11 to 12M Municipal Bldg, Congress Street, Rumford, Tuesday; Selectman's Office, 1 Main St. at Livermore Falls, Thursdays. Basement, Roger Williams Hall, Bates College, Lewiston, Wednesdays.

DETROIT — (Soundphoto) — Gordon Walker, of Ann Arbor, Mich., was on his way to get his auto after having it serviced at Frost Avis Agency and was beaten up by pickets who are picketing the strikebound service establishment. He is being led away by police officer to safety.

NONE HURT IN TRUCK ACCIDENT AT SKILLINGTON

A Mack truck, hauling hardwood logs from Newry to Vermont, overturned at Skillington Wednesday afternoon. It is said that after passing a school bus which was stopped the truck met a car, and as it suddenly swerved to the right the heavy load caused the accident. The driver of the car avoided collision with the truck by driving on to the lawn beside the road. No one was injured. The truck was righted by a winch from Blake's Garage.

VA'S PORTLAND OFFICE EXTENDS CONTROL

M L Stoddard, Manager of the Veterans Administration in Maine, announced today that effective November 1, 1947, the VA's Portland Office at 79 Exchange Street, would assume control over an additional segment of the State. Hitherto, the Portland Office handled the VA's affairs in Cumberland and York Counties. After November 1, it will take on Oxford, Franklin, Androscoggin, and all of Sagadahoc except the town of Richmond.

To VA claimants residing in the additional area named, the change means that they will deal with the Portland Office and not the Togus Office on matters pertaining to their training under the GI Bill or Public 16 (the disabled veterans training law); and their out-patient examination and treatment. Other administrative changes are involved which do not directly affect claimants and their method of properly contacting the VA.

Mr Stoddard pointed out that the Lewiston Office would continue to operate, but would be under the jurisdiction of the Portland and not the Togus Office as hitherto. It will continue to be the point of contact for those in its vicinity whom its staff of contact and training officials can assist most expeditiously.

"This reallocation, which has been under consideration for some months, will afford more convenient and direct transportation facilities as well as medical and other advantages to veterans in the area added to the Portland territorial assignment," Mr Stoddard said.

MERRILL - SAUNDERS

Mrs Margaret Saunders, daughter of Mr and Mrs A G Coolidge of Locke Mills, and Stanley Merrill, son of Mr and Mrs Everett Merrill of Bethel, were married Sunday morning at the St Catherine's Church at Norway. Father J Francis Brady performed the ceremony using the double ring service. They were attended by Mr and Mrs Malcolm Packard. The bride wore a powder blue suit with black accessories, and her attendant wore a gray suit with black accessories. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home.

Mrs Merrill is a graduate of Woodstock High School in 1939. Mr Merrill attended Bethel, Bethel and Gould Academy and served two years in the army air corps in the South Pacific. He is now employed at Bethel, and they will reside at Locke Mills.

Mr and Mrs Malcolm Mundt and children moved Sunday to the Albert Whitman farm at Grover Hill.

EAMES HOME RUINED BY FIRE MONDAY EVE

A quick fire Monday evening caused damage estimated up to $4,000 in the Central Service Station building. Starting in the upstairs apartment occupied by Rodney Eames and family, most of the furnishings were either burned or damaged by water. The partitions and ceilings, which were new this summer, were destroyed in several rooms, but water damage to the bowling alley on the first floor was averted by prompt drying out.

The fire apparently started in the bedroom of the two small children. Mrs Eames, who was downstairs, heard her daughter's cries, and the flames were noted by Mrs Gardiner Smith in the nearby Davis apartments about the same time. The children were not harmed. There was no insurance.

CAMPAIGN FOR HUNTING SAFETY

Believing that the answer to safe hunting lies in an aroused and educated public, Maine, this fall, is tackling the problem with an all-out program to make every sportsman who will gun her covers one hundred percent safety conscious. Schools all over the state will be asked to display the Ten Commandments of Shooting Safety on bulletin boards; to read the commandments at assemblies.

Radio stations in Maine will be asked to broadcast the Ten Commandments frequently throughout the hunting season.

Rod and gun writers will be urged to keep the commandments constantly before the public by running them in a standing, black-faced box.

Newspapers will be sent a series of pictures on right and wrong gun handling in the field and will be asked to publish these photographs several times a week.

Maine papers, with feature sections will be requested to run full-length, illustrated articles on the subject of hunting safely.

Through the press, rod and gun clubs in Maine will be urged to observe safety night, and to have read occasionally at meetings the Ten Commandments of Shooting Safety.

The Inland Fisheries and Game Department will display safety posters in conspicuous places and in the woods of the state.

With a motto, "Let's Make Maine the Safest State in which to Hunt," the campaign will be given impetus by the Maine Development Commission.

NOTICE

Due to the increased costs of feeds and other dairy supplies, that are necessary for the production and processing of dairy products, we feel that it is necessary to increase the price of milk two cents per quart effective October 1st.

This price is still from one to two cents per quart lower than the milk prices in surrounding areas where their service is on every other day delivery.

BREAK THE WORRY HABIT

by DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peale is minister of historic Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Ave., New York City.)

Worry probably has more victims than any other malady of the human mind. An outstanding psychiatrist calls worry "the great modern plague." A distinguished physician's carefully recorded experiments indicate that 70 per cent of the people he examined were ill, in part at least, because of anxiety and worry. Another famous physician has made a remarkable study in this field and asserts that more than half of those investigated were ill because of dammed-up anxiety. Anxiety being unable to escape outwardly turns inward and makes people sick. A state medical association reported that one-third of the people of their state were sick because of worry. You often hear the statement, "I am almost sick with worry." Then the worrier adds, "I guess I am not really sick." But that is where the worrier is wrong. Worry can make him sick.

The brilliant surgeon, Dr. George W. Crile, believed that we fear not only in our minds but in our "heart, brain, and viscera;" that whatever the cause of fear, the effect can always be noted in the cells, tissues, and organs of the body. Dr. Stanley Cobb, famous neurologist, says that worry is intimately connected with the symptoms of rheumatoid arthritis. A doctor recently stated that there is an epidemic of fear in this country. "All doctors," he said, "are having cases of illness which are brought on directly by fear or aggravated by worry and a feeling of insecurity."

Business men frequently come to those of us who deal with human nature asking us to interview employees who are falling in business. It often turns out that such people have a psychosis of worry or fear. You can't expect a surgeon to probe into a man's mind with a knife and perform an operation upon a thought because thoughts do not have material substance. But practical men realize the scientific power of faith to change thinking and thus break the worry habit.

A banker friend of mine learned to break the worry habit. He is an important financier and also a great practitioner of spiritual principles. He says, "I can remember the precise year and day and hour when I broke the worry habit—right like that (snapping his fingers). He had been ill and finally began to struggle back to health, but he was very nervous and was in a terrible state of worry."

It was Christmas day, 1927. He was in a city far from home, had no friends there save one man who had invited him to dinner that evening. He had all Christmas day with nothing to do, therefore he worked all day. Toward the close of the day the thought came to him that another year would soon end. Being of efficiency trend of mind he decided to inventory all the things he had worried about during the year.

Starting with that particular day he wrote down everything he had worried about that day, and the

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Animals, like humans, have distinctive character traits. A picture such as this usually paraphrases the expression, "playful as a kitten."

PET PERSONALITIES

SEVERAL months ago a newspaper story appeared which concerned a talking dog. It was offered in good faith. Still, it was hard to believe.

But whether or not you place any credence in such a story, the fact remains that animals aren't unlike humans. Anyone who ever has owned a pet will attest the fact that they understand commands, that they have distinctive minds and characters, that they are subject to moods and are capable of a variety of expressions.

These facts are important when you approach the business of photographing pets. For just as a good informal portrait of Uncle Dick or Cousin Sue tells something of his or her character, so pictures of pets should be indicative of the nature of the animal.

As a result, many of the rules which apply to making informal portraits of people also can be applied to taking snapshots of animals. For example, take close-ups. Shoot at sufficiently close range so that the animal is the most important part of the picture—not a small figure lost against a background of trees or shrubbery.

Second, insure naturalness. Trying to make pets pose is, if anything, even more difficult than trying to make Uncle Jim relax when he faces the camera. As a result, it's wise to have a pet occupied—playing with a ball, feeding, sitting up for a cookie. This enables you to pre-focus your camera, call the animal, and shoot when he's advanced to take the "bait" you've offered.

Third, convey an idea or tell a story. Notice in today's snapshot how the kitten, pushing at a door, seems to sum up the phrase, "playful as a kitten." Let your pictures show the animal's mood, expression, or character.

This, you'll discover, is the secret of the best animal pictures. A dog may have dignity, a cow calmness, a lamb an almost childish helplessness. The team that pulls a wagon has a look of patient plodding. Monkeys are mischievous. Animals—all of them—have distinct traits. Your best snapshots of them will show these.

John van Guilder

trust God and stop being a fool! From that moment," he declares, "I have not worried at all. I soon began to get well and ever since have had peace of mind."

"This is very remarkable," I said. "What caused your mental pattern to change all of a sudden?"

Here we are listening to this guy or the other, all of 'em out looking for what is causing the high cost of living. All of them with a lantern—as if it was hard to find—and promising relief soon as they locate the culprit or trouble or they get elected. Preferably, get elected.

I have been delving into economics too, and high prices, and you know, I deduct it is not so much "how come prices are so high," it is "how come they are not higher."

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual—National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

The British experiment in socialism is of unusual interest to the American people. First of all, we naturally feel a much closer kinship with England than any other country except Canada. The bond of a common language and common institutions is a strong one. So is the fact that we have been allies in two great wars, and millions of Americans have visited and aided England in either a military or a civilian capacity.

England's trials and tribulations, under the Labor government, therefore, are continuing to occupy a top spot in the American press, and they have been the subject of millions of words of reporting and interpretation. And, of late, many of the interpreters have come to the number conclusion that British socialism just like European socialism, is putting ideology ahead of everything else.

Henry Hazlitt recently touched on this in one of his New York columns. When he wrote, "Parliament has been deluged by anti-socialism people who reproach their government for having forgotten the needs of the people," he was pointing out that the Labor government is forgetting the needs of the people, forgetting even the national purpose of their plan, and is instead, obsessed with a plan to bring about socialism in England. He pointed out that the Labor government is running out of money, running out of dollars and pounds, and is running out of allies.

One point of view is not confined to the United States, nor even to Mr. Churchill's conservative opposition in England. Some of the Labor officials have engaged in sharp differences with Mr. Attlee, the premier, that the program is unworkable. This led to a near crisis in the "Cabinet" a short time ago but Mr. Attlee was sufficiently strong to ride out the storm. Even so, there is still some unrest in high labor circles which may make its appearance again.

The growing strength of communism in England has been a cause of worry. This does not mean that the communist party itself is of substantial size. It has only two members in Commons, and it is a sorry also-ran in most elections. But some avowed communists have risen to positions of considerable influence and authority. As an example, the leader of the coal miners is an old time communist, and a faithful follower of the party line. Some writers have openly raised the question as to where his final loyalty might lie in the event of serious trouble between the Soviet Union on the one hand and an Anglo-American alliance on the other.

In many circles, the Labor government's recent action by levying a 75 per cent net profits tax on American movies, a step which was immediately followed by a ban on film exports to England by the American producers (the Johnston office) is regarded as having been motivated more by ideology than by economics. American films are in high favor in England, and attract about 70 per cent of the total movie attendance. A strong case can be made for preventing the further export of England's dwindling dollar supply for entertainment. But the Labor government, instead of stopping on a prohibitive tax, could have simply blocked the profits in England. Then American producers could have spent the money in England, as many of them have said they were willing to do. Let a London correspondent explain the tax by saying that Sir Stafford Cripps, its instigator, "feels the U. S. films create a longing in British hearts for the fancy plumbing and conveniences and the shiny new gadgets and luxuries with which Hollywood crams its acts. He would like to dull this appetite." If this view is correct, England has banned American films because it doesn't want the British people to see visualizations of comfort and luxury. The attitude of mind behind that is uncomforably close to the mentality of the High Soviet officials.

Many a study has been made as to what the rank and file of the British people, now living under an austerity regime much more severe than that in effect during even the darkest days of the war, feel about all this. It has been found that there is much dissatisfaction, and the grumbling has naturally increased as food and other rations have been reduced. Yet there doesn't seem any strong feeling that a change of government would be of benefit. The Labor government has won a number of by-elections, since the last general election, by comfortable majorities. The mass of English voters are apparently convinced that Labor should be given every chance to make a go of it. This feeling, it is said, is in part the result of a fairly general belief that the Conservatives, despite Mr. Churchill's forensic brilliance, haven't offered anything sufficiently specific to swing the popular sentiment.

In conclusion, it should be pointed out that most observers of England, even those who are most opposed to socialism, think that, black as conditions are, she may win out yet. This, based in large part on the sturdy British character—and on England's historical habit of losing all the battles but the last.

CAPITOL STUFF

by Governor Horace Hildreth

Augusta, September 29, 1947 - It was the unanimous opinion of every Governor and every Congressman and Senator present at the Governors' Conference last week in Chicago that nothing is more vital to the preservation of our form of government, be it local, State, or National than the reduction of taxation in this nation.

It was our considered opinion that if Federal taxes were adequate to meet the unprecedented costs of war they are obviously excessive for peacetime purposes.

One of the most difficult problems still facing our Conference, however, is a policy statement on Federal grants-in-aid.

I was impressed by the strong feeling evidenced, however, that grants-in-aid should be limited to projects directly connected with National defense and in other fields to the less wealthy states that obviously need grants to bring activities to a satisfactory minimum standard.

It was the consensus among those present that grants-in-aid, purely as a means of bribing states to increase expenditures on the false theory that they are getting something for nothing, should be abolished.

We were agreed that such a result, could only be brought about with a reduction of Federal taxation and the opening up of State tax fields which would provide adequate revenue for the states to meet their own obligations.

All of us were highly pleased with the results accomplished at the Conference. Senator Alfred Hawkes summed it all up when he said, "It was the most successful meeting I have attended since I have been in the United States Senate."

With cold weather approaching the danger of fire once again is of paramount importance.

I can not urge too strongly that our citizens do all in their power to curtail the annual huge fire losses and to take every precautionary measure to eliminate fire hazards in their homes and places of business.

More than 60 people were burned to death in Maine last year. This loss in human life is indefensible in a state whose population is less

GUILD SEASON TO OPEN

NEXT WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Congregational Junior Guild will hold its first meeting of the season at Garland Chapel on Wednesday evening, October 8.

It will begin with a Pot Luck Supper at 6:30. The following committees in charge: Marvel Hanscom, Priscilla Hawthorne, Jane Kneeland, Ida Packard and Emily Saunders.

At 8 o'clock Priscilla Lord of Norway will give a review of the Fall books at which time anyone interested is invited to attend.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear her Spring review are looking forward to a very entertaining evening.

In property damage last year fire cost the citizens of Maine $5,812,162. This is $400,000 greater than the reported loss from fires during the previous year.

The inference is clear. We must develop a greater sense of responsibility for the prevention of such waste of human life and property. It is the duty of every adult citizen of Maine to know the fundamentals of fire prevention, and to make sure that their children are fully cautioned and instructed in the prevention of fires.

BEWARE THE BLIND SPOT!

Oncoming bright headlights can momentarily blind the best of drivers. It requires seven seconds after passing glaring lights for your eyes to dilate again to the darkened road. Even in this brief space of time you may not see the dim figure in the road ahead of you until it is too late.

It's the early hours of darkness, especially in the Fall and Winter when traffic is still heavy, that produce the heaviest fatalities in driver-pedestrian accidents. The three hours after sunset are three times more dangerous than daylight hours.

A safe driver reduces his average speed at night. He looks away from glaring lights, watching the edge of the road on his side. He never "overdrives" his lights and can stop at any time within his headlight range. He is especially careful at intersections and is on the watch for unlighted vehicles, and motorists changing tires at the side of the road.

Pedestrians, for your own safety, walk to the left facing traffic, carry something white. Be extra cautious at night. Never forget, the life you save may be your own.

This advertisement is presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations.

UPTON

Mrs C. A. Judkins, Correspondent

Mrs Sara Penner, teacher of the Upton school, went on a trip to Ohio with her family, where her eldest daughter is entering college. She expects to be away about a week. Mrs Fred S Judkins substituted for her last Friday. Mrs Florence Hastings from Bethel will substitute this week.

Several from town attended the World's Fair at North Waterford Saturday.

On Thursday, Sept. 25, at the Ladies Aid Building a school and pre-school clinic was held, with Dr Boynton of Bethel and district nurses of Rumford, Miss Gehres and Miss Bridges, also Mrs Lillian Hicks, R. N., of Upton in attendance. They were aided by Mrs W F Leach, Mrs A E Allen and Mrs Claude Lombard.

The cold weather last week sharply reminded the farmers of their unharvested crops. Now they are all busy getting in potatoes and other vegetables as well as apples.

Mr and Mrs Fred S Judkins were pleasantly surprised by a visitor from Mr and Mrs Glen Torrey

Monday Mrs James Keenan and Mrs Alma Keenan of Berlin, N. H., spent the afternoon with Mrs Charles Keenan and Mrs Lewis Chadwick.

Mr and Mrs James McDonald of Berlin, N. H., spent Wednesday at the Keenan Farm.

Mrs Minnie Wilson has returned to work in the office of Paul Thurston after a two weeks vacation, part of which was spent with Mr and Mrs Francis Spooner at Spencer, Mass.

Mr and Mrs Ernest Angevine took his mother, Mrs John Angevine, John and Carrie Angevine to Portland Sunday to take the train for Boston.

Quick Breads Take Little Mixing Time

(See recipes below.)

Tempting Breads

There is no aroma more appetite-provoking than that tantalizing one which comes from the oven in which bread is baking. And what is more of a treat than eating the bread itself?

Piping hot muffins add interest to the simplest supper; hot coffee cake is a delight to both early and late risers, while thick and thin slices alike—as long as they are of home-made bread—make superb sandwiches for school lunches or late snacks.

Many homemakers don't bother to make homemade bread because they think it is a time-consuming procedure. Actually, it's far simpler than mixing a cake or even cooking a vegetable, and the pleasure of it is so great, it's more than worth the little effort.

Orange Oatmeal Loaf, (Makes 4-by-7-inch loaf)
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup quick-cooking oats
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
2 tablespoons shortening, melted

Mix milk, orange juice and grated peel and add to oats. Let this mixture stand for an hour. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda and sugar. Add chopped nuts. Beat egg into oatmeal mixture. Add molasses and beat thoroughly. Stir in melted shortening. Add flour mixture and stir just to blend.

Pour into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for about 50 minutes, or until done.

Pecan Wheat Muffins, (Makes 12 to 16 muffins)
1 cup sifted whole wheat flour
1/2 cup sifted white flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Sift first four ingredients twice, returning bran in after to sifted mixture. Beat egg and brown sugar, milk and water. Stir until mixture is dissolved, then add shortening. Stir liquid quickly into dry ingredients. With the last few stirs, add chopped nuts. Pour batter immediately into greased muffin tins.
Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 20 minutes.

LYNN SAYS:
Flavor's the Thing
In Sandwiches

For a tasty as well as a healthful sandwich, spread sliced hard-boiled meat with cream cheese mixed with chives. This tastes very special on rye bread.

For a well-seasoned sandwich spread that you can keep in the refrigerator, cream butter and mix with one of the following: sweet pickle relish, horseradish, onion juice or mustard.

For a different egg salad, add a few capers to the chopped egg and a few herbs to the dressing used for moistening the mixture.

Leftover wieners can be chopped or ground with pickle relish to be used as sandwich filling. Add a bit of mayonnaise or sandwich spread if desired.

When you can't sleep, cooked tongue any longer, cut off the twenty pieces and mix with chopped hard-boiled egg and boiled dressing for a very good sandwich filler.

Raised Luncheon Muffins.

(Makes 1 dozen 3-inch muffins)
1 package yeast, compressed
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
2/3 cups flour, sifted

Crumble yeast into lukewarm water to soften. Scald milk. Cool.

Beat eggs in mixing bowl. Add sugar, salt, shortening and orange rind. Mix well.
Add cooled milk
and 1 cup flour.
Beat smooth. Add softened yeast.
Mix well. Add remaining flour.
Beat 2 minutes. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Let rise in warm place until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in a moderate (375-degrees) oven for 18 to 20 minutes.

Date and Pecan Ring.
Dates, halved
Pecans, halved
Honey
1 cup sifted white flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup unsifted whole wheat flour
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup pitted dates, chopped
1/2 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
1 1/2 cups rich milk
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons shortening, melted

Grease an 8-inch ring mold thoroughly. To prepare decorative topping, alternate halves of dates and pecans on bottom of mold and drizzle with honey. In a mixing bowl, sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add whole wheat flour, brown sugar, dates and mix thoroughly. Combine milk and vinegar. Add shortening, then add beaten eggs. Stir in dry ingredients. Mix just until flour disappears. Pour into prepared ring mold and bake in a hot (425-degrees) oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking for 25 to 30 minutes.

*Swedish Pancakes With Herry Sauce.
(Serves 4)
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted shortening
Sweetened berries or jam

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine egg, milk and melted shortening. Mix well.
Add to flour mixture. Mix with long 2 tablespoons of batter for each cake, bake on hot griddle or skillet. Spread each cake with butter, then with berries or jam.

Sisters and Brothers Bear The Closest Relationship

A person is more closely related to his sister than to his brother. From the standpoint of genetics and biology, sisters and brothers bear a closer relationship to one another than the most distant of their parents. The vast majority have one-half human blood, and their and sister have one-half human blood.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Quick Breads Take Little Mixing Time (See recipes below.)

Tempting Breads

There is no aroma more appetizing than that tantalizing one which comes from the oven in which bread is baking. And what is more of a treat than eating the bread itself?

Piping hot muffins add interest to the simplest supper; hot coffee cake is a delight to both early and late risers, while thick and thin slices alike—as long as they are of home-made bread—make superb sandwiches for school lunches or late snacks.

Many homemakers don't bother to make homemade bread because they think it is a time-consuming procedure. Actually, it's far simpler than mixing a cake or even cooking a vegetable, and the pleasure of it is so great, it's more than worth the little effort.

Orange Oatmeal bread is good when sliced thin for sandwiches. Moist and tender, it keeps its flavor easily and slices readily. The flavor actually improves when the bread is kept for a day before being cut.

Orange Oatmeal Loaf.
(Makes 4-by-7-inch loaf)
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup quick-cooking oats
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
Mix milk, orange juice and grated peel and add to oats. Let this mixture stand for an hour. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda and sugar. Add chopped nuts. Beat egg into oatmeal mixture. Add molasses and beat thoroughly. Stir in melted shortening. Add flour mixture and stir just to blend. Pour into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 50 minutes, or until done.

Pecan Wheat Muffins.
(Makes 12 to 16 muffins)
1 cup sifted whole wheat flour
1/2 cup sifted white flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Sift first four ingredients twice returning bran in sifter to sifted mixture. Beat egg, add brown sugar, milk and water. Stir until mixture is dissolved, then add shortening. Stir liquid quickly into dry ingredients. With the last few stirrings, add chopped nuts. Pour batter immediately into greased muffin tins. Bake in a hot (400-degree) oven about 20 minutes.

Swedish Pancakes With Berry Sauce.
(Serves 4)
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted shortening
Sweetened berries or jam
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk and melted shortening. Mix well. Add to flour mixture. Mix smooth. Pour 2 tablespoons of batter for each cake. Bake on hot griddle in butter. Spread each cake with buttermilk and with berry or jam.

LYNN SAYS:
Flavor's the Thing
In Sandwiches
For a tasty as well as a mouth-watering sandwich, spread sliced luncheon meat with cream cheese mixed with chives. This tastes very special on rye bread.
For a well-seasoned sandwich, spread that you can keep in the refrigerator, cream butter and mix with one of the following: sweet pickle relish, horseradish, onion juice or mustard.

Raised Luncheon Muffins.
(Makes 1 dozen 3-inch muffins)
1 package yeast, compressed
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/4 cup milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup melted shortening
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 1/2 cups flour, sifted
Crumble yeast into lukewarm water to soften. Scald milk. Cool. Beat eggs in mixing bowl. Add sugar, salt, shortening and orange rind. Mix well. Add cooled milk and 1 cup flour. Beat smooth. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add remaining flour. Beat 2 minutes. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Let rise in warm place until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 18 to 20 minutes. Date and Pecan Ring is as attractive as well as novel bread.

Date and Pecan Ring.
Dates, halved
Pecans, halved
Honey
1 cup sifted white flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup unsifted whole wheat flour
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup pitted dates, chopped
1/2 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
1 1/2 cups rich milk
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
Grease an 8-inch ring mold thoroughly. To prepare decorative top, alternate halves of dates and pecans on bottom of mold and drizzle with honey. In a mixing bowl, sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add whole wheat flour, brown sugar, dates, nuts, and mix thoroughly. Combine milk and vinegar. Add shortening, then add beaten eggs. Stir in dry ingredients. Mix just until flour disappears. Pour into prepared ring mold and bake in a hot (425-degree) oven for 15 minutes; then reduce oven to moderate (350-degree) and continue baking for 20 to 25 minutes.

Sunday Services at 10:45 A. M. All are cordially invited to attend. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30 p. m.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon that will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 5.

The Golden Text is: "The hills melted like wax in the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth. The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory" (Psalm 97: 5, 6).

The citations from the Bible include the following passages: "I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit. I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards. So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do; and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun" (Ecclesiastes 1: 14 and 2: 4, 9, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:
